1. FOUNDER'S MESSAGE

The legal profession is one among the few that has the potential to make a genuine difference in society. While we see ourselves as facilitators of change, it is the passion and commitment displayed by you that makes change possible. We strongly believe that the ethics, values and sense of social justice you imbibe from the faculty at NBSA Women's Law College will serve to guide and power your legal career.

In its aspiration of contributing to socially relevant legal education, NBSA Women's Law College recognizes that its academic agenda and curriculum would critically engage with the challenges imposed by the unequal world order to the 'rule of law'. We recognize that legal education, in order to become justice education, must constantly reinvent itself to generate a productive critique of systemic and structural inequalities. Rule of law is the yardstick that measures the level of success of good governance in a democratic country. In India it is declared to be a basic structure. Constitutional commitment to rule of law would be a farce unless it is followed in practice in its governance. In this long and arduous journey to translate the rule of law into reality, law schools and law colleges have a pivotal role to play in shaping and honing committed, disciplined and well informed advocates, judges and academicians.

NBSA Women's Law College curriculum inculcates in the students critical and analytical thinking towards the issues of Contemporary concern. The students are always challenged to strive for excellence, and the College is always present to help them frame their individual opinion and help them have their voice heard. Our contemporary and compendious curriculum and courses are designed to focus on the development and refinement of legal skills eminently relevant in the twenty-first century. In furtherance of this idea, we also keep the students aware of recent hot topics in law like IPR, Cyber Law, Media Law, Banking Law, Law of Medicine, and Law and Technology etc.

We believe that mix of competent, enlightened and dedicated faculty, a meticulously designed curriculum and an optimum infrastructure is going to ensure NBSA Women's College of Law a respectable name in India and in the world.

Dr. Rana Noor Siddiqui

2. CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

The law is no longer limited to its conventional model of being known as a mere discourse which regulates external human behavior and assures social justice. The law is slowly exhibiting itself as an indispensable mechanism of change as it has shown to be an efficient and useful device for implementation of economic and public policy, thereby strengthening the foundation of the economy.

The new idea of law and jurisprudence necessitates an unconventional approach to legal studies and research. Theoretical knowledge – one mere restricted to legal documents without interdisciplinary investigations and practical exposure is not tenable in the present day scenario, as one cannot develop the skill of interpreting the legal issues which have emerged as a result of the evolution of new economic understanding and technological advancement of the present millennium. All these necessitate Lawyers, Academicians, and Researchers with exposure and skill to play a crucial role in chartering the direction of our nation with sensitivity, wisdom, conviction, and devotion. This requires institution of high standards, which will stimulate intellectual inquiry and excellence.

The academic curriculum, incorporating emerging areas of Law in the syllabi on a regular basis pedagogy and teaching methods are devised to facilitate the young aspiring lawyers to analyze critically, well acquainted with legal principles and practice from a comprehensive perspective. The College assures to bridge the gap between the principles and practical applicability of concepts throughout the learning process which are simulative, participative and multi-disciplinary.

The College persuade the pupils to take part in Moot Court Contests, literary functions, conferences and seminars, cultural and sports activities within the College as well as outside to enable them to develop their abilities in their respective areas. We are dedicated to giving to the society, proficient lawyers and judges, competent administrators, intellectuals, academicians and socially responsible citizens. Soon, the College work towards exchange arrangements for students with institutions in India and abroad. The College sincerely aims to attain the goal of making legal education as an instrument of social, political and economic change. It is my sincere belief that the College shall advance in its endeavors to nurture and improve quality legal education and make this institution one of the best in the country.

Dr. Abdul Razzaque Ahmed

3. ABOUT NBSA WOMEN'S COLLEGE OF LAW

The Noorjahan Begum Salam Ahmad Women's Law College (The College) is the only college in Maharashtra, which offers 5 year Integrated B.A.LL.B Course, exclusively for women. The College dedicated to the cause of women's higher education. Noorjahan Begum Charitable Trust the took initiative to start a Law College exclusively for woman as it was felt that woman should know their rights and should fight for their cause. The College was established in 2010-11 for imparting quality legal education to the Women's at Yavatmal District. Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University had granted the affiliation to the College on 23.03.2010 for conducting 5 years B.A.LL.B Course subject to the approval of Bar Council of India (BCI). In 2012 BCI inspected the College and provisionally approved the College to run 5year B.A.LL.B course with intake of one Section of 60 students. Finally the College started to run from 2013 and in the first Batch of 2013 admitted 36 students. It follows a semester pattern as prescribed by Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University. The Examination is conducted by the affiliated university.

The college is managed by the Board of Management of the Noorjahan Begum Charitable Trust which is registered under Mumbai Public Trust Act and came into existence on 07.08.1992. The trust was established for the purpose of rendering services to the public in various fields of services to mankind i.e. educational, socio-economic, Orphanage, Rural Development, Medical Camps, Schools and Colleges, Arts and Agriculture, Health, Social Welfare and Promote National Integration among the public without any distinction of nationality, Religion, Caste, Class or Sex.

Dr. Abdul Razzaque Ahmed is the Chairman the Board of Management of the Noorjahan Begum Charitable Trust. In love of her angel like mother, he established this charitable trust and immersed in philanthropic activities. Dr. Ahmed received his medical degree from All India Institute of Medical Sciences and moved to the United States in the mid-1970s at age 22 to further his education. After moving to the United States he had trained in Internal Medicine at the University of Pittsburgh, and in Dermatology at the University of Buffalo, and in Allergy and Clinical Immunology at the University of California at Los Angeles. Dr. Ahmed was on the Faculty of Medicine at UCLA for six years before moving to Harvard University in Boston. He began molecular research and earned a Doctorate of Science degree from the Harvard University Faculty of Medicine and a master's in Public Administration (MPA) from the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.

Dr. Ahmed is a noted authority on two rare skin conditions, pemphigus and pemphigoid, that can lead to blindness, disfigurement, even death, and are often misdiagnosed. Some of his peers question his approach, which relies on a unique drug regimen in the toughest cases. But his patients say it gives them relief no other treatments have delivered. He is their caregiver of last resort. And they can't imagine life without him.

He has published original scientific papers in peer-reviewed journals, chapters in various books, and edited five monographs. He has lectured in the U.S. and worldwide throughout Asia, Canada, Europe, and the Middle East. Blistering diseases patients come to him from all over the U.S. and several countries overseas. He is unique because he is an excellent clinician, an imaginative and creative scientist, and an effective teacher with an infectious enthusiasm and the ability to make young physicians interested and excited in what they study and learn. He has received several prestigious awards in the U.S. and many other countries. It is important to note that he also received two Citations for his research and its global impact; one from The Commonwealth of Massachusetts House of Representatives, and the other from the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Argeo Paul Cellucci.

Dr. Rana Noor Siddiqui is a well known and respected lady at Wani. She is the Secretary of NoorJahan Begum Charitable Trust. She is known for her educational endeavors and social work. Till now, she has helped hundreds of children to get a quality education, stand on its feet and earn a livelihood in a respectable manner. She also trained hundreds of women in stitching, sewing, and other vocational training to make a livelihood. She used to organized free medical camps on behalf of the Trust for marginalized people suffering from varied health complications. After a long and tiresome battle with her passion, courage, perseverance and dedication she managed to establish a first Women's Law College in Maharashtra at Buranda with a vision that a woman should have the capability to stand on her own feet, fight for her right and step out with confidence. In recognition of her services to the society, she has been the first Muslim woman who has been conferred the Savitribai Phule Award by Maharashtra Government. Apart from this award, she has also honored with Maharashtra Gaurav Award and various other honors.
